PURPOSE

JJR and SmithGroup held an open house in the foyer of West End Dining at lunchtime. A majority of people that stopped by to talk about the master plan were students waiting in line for lunch. A small portion of faculty, staff and alumni came by, but overall, the open house was very well attended. The master plan was presented to each group that stopped to talk, and comments were written on Post-It notes and stuck on the printed boards.

MEETING NOTES

- Consider a closed walkway between Student Center and Joyner Library
- Create another entrance to Joyner
- Create student related retail within walking distance
- Create different (fresh) food options
- Create a Greek village, or incorporate this concept into residence hall
- Concentrate more development on the south side of campus to further connect the academic core, college hill, athletics and HHP
- Hotel is a great location for visitors
- A parking deck in the downtown district is favorable
- Academic development in the downtown district will help the City of Greenville
- Make sure the maritime studies program is accommodated for when the building they are currently located in is taken down
- Safety is of major concern on campus, especially if there is a new trail through the forest by Green Mill Run
- Create more convenient food options, such as in the library
- Preserve trees and open space
- Create cultural amenities
- Make sure parking is available
- Consider the purchase of Campus Towers
- Parking deck near Student Rec. Center is favorable
- Pedestrian overpass over 5th is great for students
- Alumni center proximity to parking is good in current shown location
